The French Union of water treatment companies (Synteau) groups companies specialised in design and build of water treatment facilities. This includes the following:

- Water treatment for human consumption or industrial activities ;
- Sewage plants, sludge treatment and recycling and more generally work intended to reduce municipal and industrial waste water pollution representing a discharge from a population equivalent to or more than 500 EH, or 60 kilograms of COD per day.

The professional certificate is issued by the SYNTEAU, after consultation of its Technical Commission, to a company concerned with the treatment of waste water, provided it meets the regulations and professional standards. This certification is based on recent references (certificates of competencies issued by contracting authorities and project supervisors).

The certificate is issued every year. It certifies that the holder of the certificate has the ability and the experience matching the classification granted to it.
